Documents like a provincial driver's license can help do both. Other documents that can help support screening at a NB point of entry are online at: <https://bit.ly/3dSGpvB>. All documentation and photo identification must be current.

Filling out your roadside questionnaire before arriving at the border will help save time. You can print the document at <http://bit.ly/3dVD9PW> fill it out and have it with you upon arriving at your point of entry.

Travellers to Canada: be aware that mandatory measures for travellers, that include the requirement to isolate or quarantine for 14 days on entry, have been extended until August 31.

For more information: <http://ow.ly/uor650Amucu>

As part of the new measures, all employees and personnel who enter or work in the restricted area of some airports will be subject to temperature screening procedures.
